

Licensing Policy for Online and Downloadable Resources

Instituut voor de Nederlandse Taal – Dutch Language Institute - INT

(April 2026)

The Instituut voor de Nederlandse Taal provides access to online and downloadable language resources under clear and transparent licensing conditions. Depending on the resource, different licensing models apply:

1. Online resources under the INT Terms of Use

Most online resources/services that are available online are governed by the general INT Terms of Use. Users agree to these terms simply by accessing and using the resources, e.g. <https://anw.ivdnt.org>. For certain resources and services, users are additionally required to authenticate via the CLARIN infrastructure (e.g. <https://chn.ivdnt.org>).

2. Resources with a proprietary INT licence

The INT distributes its own downloadable language materials under a proprietary INT license. A significant portion of downloadable materials originating from third-party providers is also distributed under this license, where applicable in a version adapted at the provider's request. These licences define the permitted uses and restrictions for that resource.

- For most downloadable language materials, users can obtain access by accepting the licence terms online (e.g. Boarnsterhim Corpus 2.0) by clicking the “Downloaden” button to view and accept the licence conditions.
- Certain datasets are subject to additional restrictions, for example at the request of the data provider or because they contain sensitive personal data. In such cases, access is granted only after the user has signed and returned a licence agreement. This ensures compliance with applicable intellectual property and data protection requirements (e.g. JASMIN Spraakcorpus, where the “Downloaden” button provides a package containing the licence and ordering instructions.)

3. Open-source licensed resources

A limited number of resources is made available under standard open licences such as Creative Commons licences, allowing broad reuse subject to conditions, e.g. attribution. Examples include:

- Spoken Academic Belgian Dutch Corpus: CC-BY-NC 4.0
- SUBCAT-lexicon: CC BY-NC-SA 4.0

/instituut voor de Nederlandse taal/

The INT respects and safeguards intellectual property rights in all resources it distributes and makes available online. For third-party materials, the INT ensures that appropriate agreements are in place with the relevant rights holders. Users are responsible for complying with the applicable licence terms.

In the event of a breach of licence conditions or intellectual property rights, the INT reserves the right to take appropriate measures, including suspending or terminating access to the resources and, where necessary, initiating legal action.

Users who believe that any material infringes their rights, or who have questions regarding licensing or the reuse of resources, may contact the INT via the service desk.
